Six Plays Planned This Year

The CBC Drama Department has announced plans for its 1965-66 season. Again, as last year, six plays will be staged. Two plays will be presented each quarter.

Thomas Barton, Fredrick Dixon, and Daniel Sarton, all of the Language Arts Department, will each direct two plays this season. They have not yet chosen the exact plays.

Casting for the first production will begin within two weeks. Try-outs are open to all CBC students. Times and places for try-outs will be announced.

Barton urged all students interested in drama to read for a part in the plays. There will also be many behind-the-scenes jobs as well.

Culture Is Aim Drama Group

Discussion is being held to consider the formation of a new drama club on campus. The new club would be a combination of the already existing drama, music, and art clubs plus the film group.

The purpose of bringing these smaller groups into one large one would be so that more cultural entertainment could be brought to Columbia Basin College. This would mean more lectures, exhibits, and films for CBC students. There is also the possibility that the new club could put out some type of literary magazine or newspaper featuring student creations.

Thieves Suck Profits From CBC Bookstore

The bookstore is doing more business than ever this year. Unfortunately, as the sales volume rises, so does the amount of student shoplifting.

Most public stores suffer a certain amount of this sort of pilferage. In the case of the student bookstore, however, the loss cannot be absorbed by the high profits on the items it sells as it is by most commercial retailers, according to William Bruer, dean of students.

For, unlike most stores, the bookstore is not operated to make money but to serve the student body. It strives to earn just enough to remain in operation. Profits are fed back to the Bruer says it is obvious then, that every shoplifted item cuts a slice out of student money.

Discussing that portion of the store's merchandise which "leaves" without being paid for, Bruer expressed reluctance to raise the prices—thus passing the penalty of the dishonest few on to the honest majority—but he said that it may be necessary.

Emphasizing that shoplifting is not a problem exclusive to CBC, Bruer cited the example of Eastern Washington State College, which employs a full time uniformed Pinkerton agent in its bookstore to make sure no one steals.

CBC, he hopes, will never have to come to that.

Vocal Instrument Trio To Present Concert

THE 3D's — ASB SPONSORED

Two hours of comedy, drama, music and rhythm will be offered Tri-Citians October 5. The 3D's, a vocal instrument trio, for Capitol Records, will appear in the Pasco High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

The group has composed original melodies and rhythms showcasing America's poetry. "Charge of the Light Brigade," "Jabberwocky," "Annabel Lee" and "Casey at the Bat" are among the numbers that will be presented in the program.

In addition to the popularized poetry, the trio handles popular music, traditional blues and folk material. In addition, they do semi-classical selections like Granada and Maleguena.

THE 3D's have appeared with Bob Hope, Jonathan Winters, Bob Newhart. They sang the theme in the movie, "Town Tamer", and have also appeared with Jimmie Stewart, Art Linkletter, and cast members of "Bonanza."

The group formed while they were attending Brigham Young University.

Tickets will be available at the door for $1.

Enrollment Up This Year

Registration for fall quarter day students is 1764 according to the registrar's office. The total figure will not be known until registration ends.

Last year's night school enrollment figure is unknown.

Night school enrollment this year will not be determined until classes are underway.

Parking Regulations Set By Student Body

By LARRY KEATTS

Collegiate Staff Writer

transcript.

With total Columbia Basin College enrollment higher than last year, new problems have arisen in student parking, and Steve Clark has been retained as traffic control coordinator.

Clark has issued a bulletin on parking-lot policy for this quarter. The sheet is issued with a warning ticket when a parking violation occurs.

To park in the student parking lot, a student must buy a $1 CBC parking decal and put it prominently on his car. Failure to comply with the regulation will result in fines, towing charges, and in the extreme instance, expulsion from college.

IF A student fails to pay his fine by the end of the quarter, the college will withhold his

When parking in either of the parking lots, located off Chase Street and in the rear of the college off Road 24, the student must observe the angle-parking rule. Yellow stripes on the retaining logs are the guides for parking correctly. Signs and arrows designate the correct direction for travel.

PARKING FEES have quadrupled since Spring Quarter of 1964.

Sig Hansen, Director of Men's Activities, explained that some $800 must be received from parking fines and fees to pay the costs of patrol and maintenance of the parking lots.

Clark said that he felt the fees are "very fair."

"At the University of Washington, the parking charge is $27 a quarter," Clark stated.

EVEN WITH strict enforcement of the parking rules, Hansen expects the present parking facilities to rapidly become wholly inadequate.

He hopes that Franklin County will part with the vacant lot on the northeast side of Chase Street.

If the county will level and grade the lot, the college will convert it into an additional parking space for some 150 cars.

There is to be no parking by students in the faculty parking lot, the visitors parking lot, or the loading zone by the lounge entrance. The restricted areas are all quite clearly marked by signs, so no confusion or attendant violations should result, said Clark.

Rippey Welcomes Frosh

William Bruer, Jack Cooney, Edward Beatty, Donald Rippey.

September 15, Dr. Donald Rippey, President of Columbia Basin College, presented his welcome speech to the new freshmen. Rippey stressed the fact that to be successful individuals in our society, we must be willing to act as adults and work arduously to attain good grades.

"One of the chief differences between high school and college," Dr. Rippey stated, "is the additional work level. Try to keep up with it, not catch up with it."

Dr. Rippey closed his orientation speech by announcing the new Dean of Students, William Bruer; Dean of Instruction, Dr. Ed Beatty; and Jack Cooney, Dean of Vocational Instruction.

RIPPEY realizes that, due to the increase in enrollment, the He apologizes for this and hopes lounge area is over-crowded. that we can have a new in the near future.

Emergency parking arrangements are being made at the present and should be ready by the end of this week. CBC purchased area from the course for this purpose.

Rippey pointed out that crowding in the library may become a major problem. Therefore the library may have to stay open on Saturdays and Sundays. If students feel this would be a pertinent moment, please contact one of administration.

Rippey welcomes any complaints, ideas, or suggestions from the students, pertaining to the school.

Thieves Hurt Innocent

Despite the money students are paying to the bookstore this quarter, the bookstore is losing money from the thefts of large numbers of books and supplies.

It's relatively easy to steal from the store, since a student can enter with an armload of books, discreetly take from the shelf whatever he needs and leave without being noticed.

Dean William Bruer has stated that—due to the thefts—the cost of books and materials will have to be raised to absorb the loss. This means that students who use the store will have to pay for the thievery.

MR. BRUER added that this is a problem not uncommon to college bookstores. Some college stores take extensive measures to curb shoplifting.

Bruer stated that he does not want to have people policing the aisles for shoplifters, but that something will be done to curb the stealing.

This situation poses a question: will raising the cost of supplies cut down on the thefts?

REPORTS have shown that it is usually the person with money who shoplifts in the first place. Whether the costs are raised may make no difference to the shoplifter.

Although this is a campus-run bookstore, anyone caught shoplifting would be treated in the same manner as if he had been caught in any downtown merchant's store.

We hope that this thieving will end. If it doesn't, more preventive steps will occur. The picture of people being checked in and out of the store and of people policing the aisles will leave a bad impression in the eyes of visitors and students alike.

Vox Populi, Vox Dei...

As your ASB President, I would like to acquaint you with our extra-curricular program at Columbia Basin College, designed to aid in the development of the student beyond that of the academic program.

College at CBC, as in any other institution, is more than classroom work; it is the association of young adults both academically and socially. Its first purpose is to instruct; but it must also allow each individual to pursue his own skills and talents; to make new friends; to cultivate new interests; and to develop his character and leadership.

I encourage your interest in sports, dances, plays, lectures and other activities. Your participation will make your stay at CBC an experience both rewarding and enjoyable.

COLLEGE is your last stage of learning before entering life as a citizen in a democratic society. For this reason it becomes imperative that you engage in student government when possible.

Remember: Columbia Basin College can be only what YOU make it. If your ASB officers can serve you in any capacity, feel free to call on them.

Sincerely,
Larry Williamson, President
Associated Student Body

Light Opera Co. Issues Cast Call

Director Tom Powers and music director Don Paul have put out a call for singers and dancers, chorus personnel and stagehands for the production, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

The play, produced by the Richland Light Opera Co., will open Wednesday, Nov. 11, at Chief Joseph Junior High School.

The most urgent need is for electricians, painters, artists, seamstresses, and musicians.

In addition there still a few good parts to be cast from the chorus.

Nehru Is Chosen Essay Topic

"Nehru As A World Citizen" will be the subject of the Indian Embassy's second annual essay contest.

The competition, open to American students aged 18-24, (by Dec. 1, 1965) offers a one week visit to India to the competition winner via one of Air India's Boeing 707 jets.

Essays must be typewritten in English and double-spaced on one side of the paper; between 2,000—2,500 words with word count typed in the upper right-hand corner of the essay's first page, accompanied by a letter bearing the essayist's name, nationality, birthdate, school and major course of study.

THE BOARD of judges examining the essays will use clarity, originality and cogency of thought and argument presentation as their main criteria. The board's decision will be final.

The contest closes Wednesday, Dec. 15, 1965. Entries should reach the Education Department, Embassy of India, 2107 Massachusetts Avenue, N. W., Washington, D.C., by that date to assure consideration.

The Indian Embassy, in behalf of the Indian Government, held an essay competition last year on the subject "Religion, Secularism and Democracy in Modern India" for American students within the United States to stimulate their interest in Modern India.

The Indian Embassy proposes to make this contest an annual feature. Of this year's contest subject, an embassy spokesman said, "The late Prime Minister Nehru was one of the world's greatest men. It was not just as a leader of India that he saved humanity. Perhaps more than any world leader he gave expression to man's yearning for peace; and in his fearless pursuit of a world free from war he served all humanity. It is to the memory of this great man who belonged not only to India but to the whole world that the subject of this year's essay contest is dedicated."

New Students Stroll to First Classes

ON THE WALK: Diana Strome, Gary Andrews, Sandra Olson and Dianna Niel traveled together on their way to new studies as the first day of classes began last week at CBC with 1,764 officially enrolled. The four were trying out a new sidewalk behind the I-Building. The walk was installed last week.

ASB Prepares Constitution Changes

The ASB council Monday received their report from the constitution committee on recommendations for constitution changes. The ASB has been operating under a set of non-ratified rules.

Larry Williamson, ASB president, said that since the first part of the constitution had been changed by the ASB council and not ratified by the student body, the constitution was not legal.

Discussion for fewer officers under Article IV section A, resulted in formation of a committee to finish the constitution changes.

OTHER business included proposals to buy a bus for activities and information on the chain of command through ASB council to William Bruer, Dean of Students.

Bruer said that all business concerning students was to come through Sig Hansen, ASB advisor.

Bruer also stated that a formal proposal would be submitted to the ASB Wednesday for the purchase of a used bus, probably an old Greyhound, for student activities. He said that this would eliminate the need to use school district buses.

W. Hare Works For Demos

Wanda Hare, Young Democrats president, spent the summer in Seattle as an intern for the State Democratic Committee, the main governing body of the Democratic party in the state.

Miss Hare spent about six and research work on issues for the Committee.

She was sponsored by the Washington - Northern Idaho Council of the Center for Education in Politics.

Miss Hare, who is also President of the Associated Women Students, was the only student in the state to work for the Committee as an intern.

SAC Holds First Meeting

The Student Activities Council, Tuesday held its first meeting. Duane Brandenburg, Student Activities Council Co-Chairman, welcomed the new club representatives.

Ken Williams, Collegiate representative proposed that the S.A.C. representatives be publicity managers for the clubs to simplify the news gathering procedure.

BRANDENBURG asked for representatives to volunteer their clubs for dances scheduled October 2, and 30.

Wanda Hare, AWS president, suggested that the dance scheduled Oct. 30 be cancelled to allow an AWS - Circle K dance scheduled for October 29 to go ahead as planned.

Brandenburg announced that the club schedules are still tentative.

William Bruer Is New Student Dean

Columbia Basin College welcomes a new Dean of Students, William Bruer, who comes to CBC from Crawford, Neb.

Bruer received most of his education in the states of Nebraska, Colorado, and Montana. Bruer earned his Bachelor's degree at Nebraska State Teachers College in Chadron, Nebraska. He acquired his Master's degree at Colorado State College of Education in Greeley, Colorado. Bruer did additional graduate work at Montana State University.

Bruer has also received degrees in the undergraduate field in physics and physical education, which were his majors. His minor degrees were attained in math, social studies, and English.

MUCH EXPERIENCE was acquired by Bruer in the years prior to his newly appointed job at CBC. He represented a high school in Chadron, Nebraska, for a period of two years, as both teacher and athletic director. Bruer served as a junior high school principal in Thompson Falls, Montana for one year. He also held the position of district superintendent for two years in St. Regis, Montana. Bruer functioned as county high school principal in Dillon, Montana; he held this particular position for three years.

In the last eight years he served as associate professor at Western Montana College, in Dillon, Montana. During this period he was also dean of men, director of secondary education, director of placement, and director of correspondence study.

Bruer is an avid fisherman, hunter, and golfer. This is one of the many reasons he is so pleased with the state of Washington.

"I am especially impressed with the extremes in Washington such as desert vs. sea coast vs. mountains," commented Bruer.

He also agrees with the educational system in the state, as far as planning for the future is concerned. Bruer is quite pleased with the rapid increase in the number of community colleges in the state.

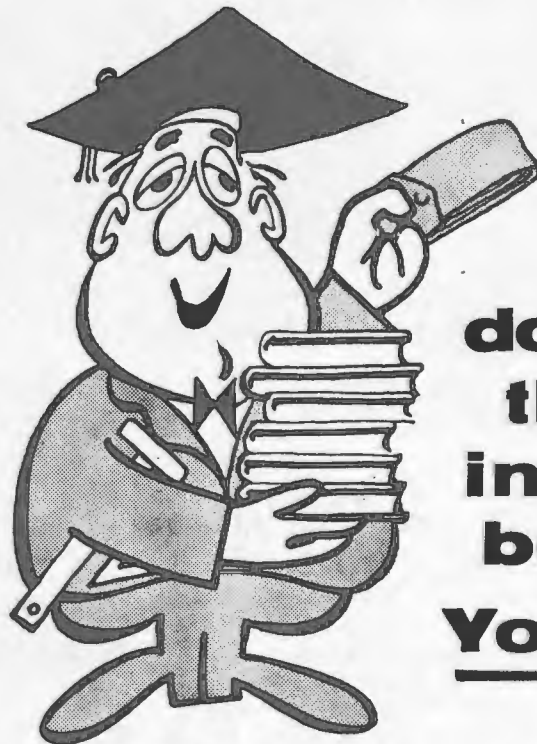

BRUER is more than pleased with the friendly atmosphere constituted by the students, faculty and administration. He feels strongly about the organization of the college and the progressive attitude that circulates.

"One of the main reasons I chose to come to CBC was due to the newness of the college and its rapid growth," Bruer added.

The Bruers have three daughters and a son. Their eldest daughter, Jill, is a senior this year, studying at Western Montana College. Jan Bruer is sophomore at CBC. June, youngest daughter, is attending Pasco High School. She is sophomore. The Bruer's son, Jay, is beginning his education at Pasco kindergarten.

Many Clubs Open To Students At CBC

Columbia Basin College has a large number of on-campus organizations for students.

A brief sketch of each follows.

The Associated Women Students group is open to all women students. This club features a big sister program, speakers, a tea and fashion show and the Tolo dance. See Mrs. Stappler, Dean of Women's Activities for more details.

CSO, OR Neuman Apostolate, is CBC's Catholic organization on campus. Its purpose is to make Christ felt on campus.

Circle K is sponsored by the Kiwanians of the Tri-Cities. It is a service club open to male students of good scholastic standing at CBC. Interested students should see Maurice McLaughlin, Circle K President.

The Collegiate Council of the United Nations, CCUN, is the international affairs organization at CBC. The climax to the year is participating in a model United Nations during spring quarter. Miss Nordin is club advisor.

The Women's Recreational Association, WRA, is organized to encourage women to participate in sports activities. Contact Mrs. Racy in the physical education department for more information.

DRAMA STUDENTS are invited to join a new campus organization, the new drama club. This club plans to hold workshops and discussions throughout the year. See Mr. Dixon, Mr. Fitzpatrick or Mr. Koch for information.

The freshman and sophomore classes are the largest organizations on campus. They offer forums for student elections and sponsor Homecoming and the class dances. Larry Williamson and Sigvard Hansen have more information.

The Collegiate, the CBC newspaper, welcomes any student who is interested in news writing or the mechanics behind a newspaper's operation. The Collegiate, located in room C-10 publishes weekly. Interested students should see John de-Yonge or Joe Boyd.

Other clubs are the Luther club which is a christian service club for Lutheran students on campus, the Baptist Student Union for students in their denomination and the Phi Rho Pi, or the debate fraternity, which features an ambitious intercollegiate debate schedule.

With all these organizations on campus, one cannot but succeed in finding one or more which appeals.

Welcoming Dance is Saturday

The Associated Student Body Officers will sponsor a welcoming dance in honor of all new and returning students Saturday night in the gym following the Shasta game.

Admittance is FREE for this first dance of the season which will run until 1 a.m. Music will be provided by The Jaguars.

Hawks Tame Broncos 26-0 in Opener

RA Schedules Bowling, Skiing, Tennis

CBC's Women's Recreational Association was organized to compass recreational activities of women students at Columbia Basin College. The sports activities to be stressed depend on the interest shown by students.

Bowling team participants will sign up immediately with Mrs. Racy and plan to make advanced bowling winter quarter.

The tennis team is formed from the advanced tennis class in the spring quarter. These teams participate in a regular schedule and take part in tournaments throughout Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. The women compete with both community and four-year institutions.

For co-recreational activities one can check the Ski Club or inquire at the local bowling lanes for College Bowling League.

Ski Club, open to all CBC students, will acquaint the prospective members with the activities usually undertaken by the Club at the first meeting. The first project will be to make posters and sponsor a float for the Homecoming activity.

A ski workshop is planned Oct. 4-9 to acquaint the skier with equipment, exercises and safety rules.

More details concerning women's intramurals, including volleyball and badminton, will be announced later.

Coach True Confident About Team

By JOHN HAMPTON
Collegiate Staff Writer

Robert True, head coach of the CBC cross-country team, believes this year's team has just as good a chance as any other team in the state.

True has three lettermen back from last year's team, which took first place in the Inland Empire AAU Long Distance Run last year.

The returning lettermen are Carl Kinion, Larry Richwine and Larry Maulden, all from Pasco. Others are: Jim Carey, Renton; Don Cauble, Kennewick; Ron Cauble, Kennewick; Ron Smithwick, Richland; Steve Clark, Seattle; Joe Evans, Richland; Otis Hayes, Pasco; Bruce Casey, Richland; Pete Remillard, Richland.

The cross-country schedule is: Oct. 2, Moses Lake Cross Country Invitational (2 mile); Oct. 5, Whitman at CBC (2.5 mile); Oct. 9, Columbia Basin College Invitational; Oct. 16, University of Idaho Invitational at Moscow (2 mile).

Oct. 23, Central Washington Invitational at Ellensburg (3.75 mile); Oct. 26, Whitman at Walla Walla; Oct. 30, Inland Empire AAU Long Distance Run at Spokane (5,000 meters).

Nov. 6, Tri-City Cross Country Invitational; Nov. 13, Northwest AAU 5,000 meter at Seattle; Nov. 20, University of British Columbia AAU Invitational at Vancouver; Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Long Distance Run (Turkey Trot) at CBC.

Hammer Gives YR Report

Dennis Hammer, Young Republicans president, attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Washington State Young Republican Federation in Spokane Saturday.

The second issue of the YR newspaper, was reported successful and plans are underway for improvements in distribution.

The YR state constitutional convention is set for November 20. A nationally-known speaker will be scheduled for the opening address, and business will begin the second day.

David McLucas, State President, appointed a committee to develop the Recruitment, Expansion, and Development of YRs.

Hammer invited all students who are interested in government to attend the meetings of the Young Republicans held Thursdays at 10:00 a.m. in Room C-117.

PINEAPPLE PRINCE: Ray Brum brought CBC the sweet fruit of success as he guided the Hawks to a 26-0 win over highly rated Boise JC. Brum is a freshman from Honolulu.

By RON SHADE

Collegiate Sports Editor

The Columbia Basin Hawks put a brilliant running and passing attack with a fine defensive effort by the "Gang Busters" to rout the strong Boise Broncos 26-0 in their season opener at Boise Saturday night.

Freshman quarterback Ray Brum of Honolulu made his college debut by leading the Hawks with a pair of touchdowns and setting up another. Brum completed eight of 14 passes for 158 yards, including five straight in the Hawks' explosive second period.

The Hawks handed Boise their first shutout in 105 games, dating back to the final game with Pasadena in 1953.

The Broncos, fielding their strongest team in recent years, couldn't get their offense going against Coach Dwight Pool's tough defense. BJC drove inside the Hawks' 30 yard line several times, but the "Gang Busters" halted the drives on interceptions, fumbles, or downs.

BRUM KEPT the Boise defense guessing all night by mixing his plays with passes, end sweeps, and power plays up the middle of Boise's line. He sent fullbacks Dick Brown of Pasco and Arnold Clark, a New Jersey freshman, through the center of the line for big yardage. Halfbacks Ray Stookey of Spokane and speedster Jerry Bailey provided the speed as the Hawks completely dominated the game after the first quarter.

Sophomore lettermen Bailey put the game away for the CBC team when he picked off Boise quarterback Ron Imel's pass and sprinted down the sidelines for an 81-yard touchdown.

Brum displayed the poise of a veteran as he tossed to sophomore end Gib Brumback for the Hawks' first score with 8:52 left in the second period. The scoreless first period saw both teams driving inside the other's 30-yard line, only to lose the ball on a field goal attempt by Boise and a fumble by the Hawks.

CBC kicked off to the Broncos and the "Gang Busters" went to work, stopping Boise with a four-yard loss and forcing them to punt.

The Hawks, sparked by Clark's 15-yard gain to the 28-yard line of the Broncos, drove to the two yard line, where fullback Brown pushed it over for CBC's second touchdown of the quarter. Bailey missed his second attempt for the point after, but the Hawks held a comfortable lead at halftime, 13-0.

COLUMBIA BASIN's third score came after a 50-yard drive. Brum completed an 18-yard pass to Brumback, followed by a 17-yard gain by Bailey on a reverse. Another completed pass to end Jim Northcott put the Hawks inside Boise's 10. With the Broncos prepared for another fullback smash, Brum fooled the defense by rolling out and driving in for the touchdown. The score put CBC out front 19-0 with 5:32 left.

Boise put together a 59-yard drive, including a 50-yard run by Jim Evanson, a 205-pound freshman. BJC quarterback Imel made his mistake when he attempted a pass which was grabbed by Bailey.

The Hawks' defense was led by Charlie Hayes as he intercepted two of Imel's passes.

The Broncos' offense was bright only in one spot, that being Evanson. The fullback accounted for all but 40 of Boise's ground yardage with 157 yards to his credit.

Cooney Returns From S. America

Jack Cooney, technical-vocational education department director, took a year leave of absence from Columbia Basin College and spent the time working with the government of British Honduras and Mexico.

Cooney worked as an expert vocational training for the International Labor Organization whose main office is located in Geneva, Switzerland. His duties and responsibilities included advising the government of British Honduras in training adults in electrical, carpentry, automotive, plumbing and fitting, and masonry occupations. Cooney advised the Honduras government in the organization and administration of a national apprenticeship program. He also aided the government in building, equipping and organizing pre-vocational classes in the above fields.

The CBC director left for the Central American country March 14, 1964 and set up his home base at Belize City, British Honduras. Belize City, with a population of 35,000 people, is 18 inches below sea level.

"The country is developing toward self government," said Cooney. "I did most of my work with the Ministry of Labor and the Ministry of Education. We started the first public education ever organized in Honduras," Cooney said.

Cooney said most of his traveling was done by small airplane or jeep. He followed the route of Cortez through the Mayan Indian ruins. He revisited the republic of Honduras, which included the towns of San Pedro de Rosula, Copan and Tegucigalpa, capital of British Honduras.
